

Donor Bill of Rights – O’Brien House Supports

“A Donor Bill of Rights”

Philanthropy is based on voluntary action for the common good. It is a tradition of giving and sharing that is primary to the quality of life. To assure that philanthropy merits the respect and trust of the general public, and that donors and prospective donors can have full confidence in the not-for-profit organization and causes they are asked to support, we declare that all donors have these rights:

I. To be informed of the organization’s mission of the way the organization intends to use donated resources, and of its capacity to use donations effectively for their intended purposes.	VI. To be assured that information about their donations is handled with respect and with confidentiality to the extent provided by law.
II. To be informed of the identity of those serving on the organization’s governing board and to expect the board to exercise prudent judgment in its stewardship responsibilities.	VII. To expect that all relationships with individuals representing organizations of interest to the donor will be professional in nature.
III. To have access to the organization’s most recent financial statements.	VIII. To be informed whether those seeking donations are volunteers, employees of the organization or hired solicitors.
IV. To be assured their gifts will be used for the purposes for which they were given.	IX. To have the opportunity for their names to be deleted from mailing lists that an organization may intend to share.
V. To receive appropriate acknowledgment and recognition.	X. To feel free to ask questions when making a donation and to receive prompt, truthful and forthright answers.

Developed by

American Association of Fund Raising Counsel (AAFRC)
 Association for Healthcare Philanthropy (AHP)
 Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE)
 Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP)